WAS FOUND DEAD

Mrs. Catherine Morris a Victim of Heart Disease

Mrs. Catherine Morris, aged about 60 years, was found dead this morning in her room in the lodging house, 29 Bridge street, conducted by Mrs. Lavonia Robinson.

The woman retired apparently in the heat of health early last night bidding one of the lodgers good night before entering her room.

This morning, when she was called for work no response was received from Mrs. Morris and when the door of the room was forced in she was found dead. Heart disease is the supposed cause of death.

Mrs. Morris formerly worked in the Hamilton mills until the slackness there caused her to seek work at the boarding house of Mrs. Shute on the Merrimack front row. The body was removed to Undertaker J. F. O'Donnell & Sons' morgue to be prepared for burial.

A son, Edward Morris of Easton, Maine, is the only known surviving relative of the deceased. He wrote his mother a letter a few days ago saying that he would forward her $50 the next of the coming month.

Mrs. Morris has resided at the Robinson lodging house since two years ago last July.

CHESTER JORDAN

Alleged Wife Murderer Was Not Arraigned Today

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 25.—Chester J. Jordan, husband of Mrs. Honora Jordan, whose body he has confessed to dismembering following her death on the night of Sept. 1, was scheduled to be arraigned before the superior Middlesex criminal court today on the charge of murder in the first degree in causing the death of his wife. It is now almost a month since the gruesome discovery of his wife's severed and bloody remains, packed in a trunk, was made by the police through the keenness of a hackman in whose vehicle Jordan had expected to take the trunk to the New York steamer.

The case promises to be a protracted one, the defense having secured an array of prominent lawyers and medical experts from New York and Boston to combat the contention of the government which will be supported by District Attorney Higgins that Jordan killed his wife with a flat-iron, after she had choked her and then cut her throat. There has been considerable defense not having given any intimation as to their particular line of arguments while the district attorney's office has kept secret the report of the medical examiners filed several days after the discovery of Mrs. Jordan's body.

It is understood that the government has discovered several points which tend to dispute the accuracy of the confession made by Jordan following his arrest. One of these is a blood-clotted pattern found in a closet in the Jordan home in Somerville. Should it be proven that Mrs. Jordan met her death with this instrument the confession will be discredited as her husband admitted only to striking her with his fist.

Among Jordan's counsel are included William F. Hart of New York, Chas. S. Bartlett of Boston, and William S. Sullivan, also of this city. The medical experts for the defense include Dr. Henner and Dr. Ewing of New York; Dr. W. T. Councilman of Harvard; Dr. Harry Germain of Tufts, and Dr. Thomas Dwight of Boston, all eminent in the study of pathology and well acquainted with the various phases of morbid diseases.

After court convened today District Attorney Higgins announced that Jordan would not be arraigned today as had been arranged.

THE WHITE PLAGUE

Campaign Against Dreaded Disease Begun in Washington

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—A remarkable educational campaign formally was inaugurated here today. It was humanity's crusade against a most deadly foe—the white plague.

The occasion was the official opening of the sixth annual international congress on tuberculosis at the national museum. A more distinguished gathering perhaps has never before met in the national capital. Scientists of international fame, diplomats, philanthropists and representatives of practically every civilized nation were present.

The first day of the convention was marked by simple but unique ceremony. Preliminary to the formal opening of the congress, the speakers of the various committees, the officers of the congress, the honorary presidents and the section presidents met in the office of Dr. Henry Brewer, chairman of the committee on exhibits in the museum building shortly before 10 o'clock and accompanied by Drs. Beyer and John S. Fulton, the secretary-general, proceeded to the stage in the great auditorium. There scores tary Cortes, the presiding officer and as personal representative of the president of the United States, extended the official welcome on behalf of the United States government. A welcome to the capital was then extended by District Commissioner McFarland and brief responses by the representatives of about thirty foreign countries. The assembly hall was a prism of colors, the flags of every nation being displayed. The national anthems of this and other countries were played by the marine band.

On Sunday forenoon next at 10.30 o'clock there will be a solemn high mass and a procession of the blessed sacrament in observance of Rosary Sunday.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Work at Immaculate Conception Church

APPEAL FOR COOPERATION OF PARENTS

Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O. M. I. Spoke of the Work at 9 O'Clock—Rev. Fr. McRory, O. M. I. to Assist—Other Matters

At nine o'clock mass at the Immaculate Conception church, Rev. Dennis Sullivan, O. M. I., the celebrant, spoke very forcibly about delinquent children who persistently refrain from attending Sunday school. He warned parents that they would be held accountable for not co-operating with the clergy in the religious training of the boys and girls. Parents are primarily responsible for the religious training of their children. He spoke with emphasis when he said that no boy who would reach the age of 12 years next July and no girl who would attain the age of 11 years at that time would be allowed to receive their first communion in June next if they did not attend Sunday school and know their catechism.

He further impressed on parents that no child had graduated from Sunday school simply because they had made their first communion and that children at the age of 14 and 15 years continually absent themselves who should give a few hours of the Sabbath to the receiving of religious instruction. The pastor, Rev. Fr. McRory himself will have charge of the class preparing for first communion.

Yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock there was a meeting of the Children of Mary of the Immaculate Conception church when many new members were admitted. At 5.30 o'clock, there was a meeting of the Holy Name society.

The usual October devotions begin next Thursday evening.

At the Immaculate Conception church on Sunday forenoon next at 10.30 o'clock Rosary Sunday will be observed by a solemn high mass and a procession of the blessed sacrament.

Retreat Closed

A retreat for the members of the Angles-Gardens sodality came to a close yesterday at St. Jean Baptiste church. Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I., who preached during the retreat, preached the closing sermon, and Rev. Fr. Oullette, O. M. I., director of the sodality, officiated at benediction. Nearly 1000 boys followed the exercises of the retreat throughout.

Annual Parish Visit

The annual parish visit of the priests of St. Joseph's parish will be commenced next week. The rector, Rev. Fr. Campeau, O. M. I., will visit the section from the Merrimack river to St. Jean Baptiste church. Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I., will visit Little Canada, and Rev. Fr. Gratton, O. M. I., Pawtucketville. The section from St. Jean Baptiste church to Suffolk street will be visited by Rev. Fr. Oullette, O. M. I., and that from Suffolk street to the Concord river, by Rev. Fr. Brulard, O. M. I., in place of Rev. Fr. Lamotte, O. M. I., rector of St. Joseph's church, who is at present in Europe. Rev. Fr. Amyot, O. M. I., will visit South Lowell and Belvidere, and Rev. Fr. Barrette, O. M. I., the vicinity of the common.

At St. Patrick's

Last night the Holy Name society of St. Patrick's parish held a meeting at the Brothers' school hall in Suffolk street to arrange details of participation in the demonstration in Boston on the first Sunday in November, when the centenary of the founding of the archdiocese of Boston will be celebrated. There were addresses by Rev. William O'Brien, Rev. Fr. Curran, Edward F. Slattery, Daniel S. O'Brien and James O'Sullivan, who presided. These meetings will be continued each Sunday evening at 7 o'clock until the event in Boston.

St. Peter's Church

There will be a meeting of the Holy Name society of St. Peter's church in the Fair hall on Thursday evening next.

On Sunday forenoon next at 10.30 o'clock there will be a solemn high mass and a procession of the blessed sacrament in observance of Rosary Sunday.

Notre Dame De Lourdes

The contests in aid of the new church of Notre Dame de Lourdes came to a close Saturday night. The contests were conducted in connection with two whist parties which were held by the parish committee on Thursday and Saturday nights of last week. The affair proved to be a financial success, the committee realizing between $600 and $700.

STORM ON WAY

Expected to Reach New England Tonight

There is every reason, according to the weather man, to believe that the drought is nearly over, for he said last night that a storm which was central along Lake Michigan yesterday, would probably work eastward within the next 24 hours, and he prophesied rain either tonight or tomorrow morning.

There was rain, according to the report received at the weather bureau yesterday, in the lake region, and it is thought that this storm will arrive in New England tonight.

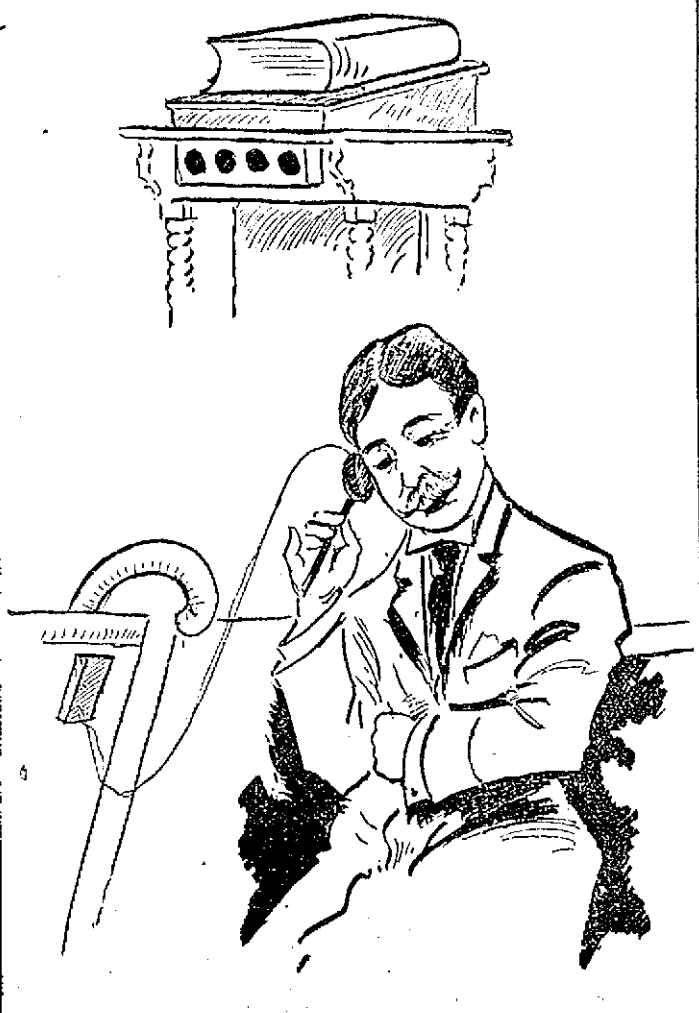

Today, according to the weather man, will be cloudy and probably several degrees cooler than the weather which prevailed last week. Yesterday was not unusual for September, the experts said, but with tomorrow a change in temperature is looked for.

CHELMSFORD

About two acres of woodland owned by E. A. Hazen were destroyed by fire in Chelmsford Centre yesterday. It is supposed to have been the work of a tramp. The fire was discovered by Walter Merrill about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and a telephone alarm sent in to the department that put in two hours of lively work before they had it under control. Mr. Hazen considers this wood lot the most valuable of any that he owns.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Rededicated With Impressive Services and Large Attendance

SKETCH SHOWING HOW A PERSON PARTIALLY DEAF CAN HEAR THE SERMON DISTINCTLY FROM THE REAR PEW BY USING THE EARPHONE. THE TRANSMITTER IS SHOWN ON THE BACK OF THE PULPIT.

Sermons by Rev. Charles F. Rice D. D., and Rev. Dr. Hamilton of Methodist University at Washington — Excellent Music and Appropriate Decorations

St. Paul's M. E. church in Hurd street, the new church raised from the ruins of the old church, was rededicated yesterday. The dedication services were very impressive and the attendance was large. The customary collection was dispensed with because the church is free from debt, a pleasant and rather unusual condition in a church building.

People who filled the beautiful church at the services morning and evening included congregational and other denominations as well as members of St. Paul's.

The sermon of the morning was preached by Rev. Franklin Hamilton, Ph. D., chancellor of the American Methodist University at Washington, D. C. The church was beautifully decorated and in the morning there was special music, comprising congregational singing under the leadership of Mr. Frederick Clegg, with Mr. Charles V. Barker at the organ, supplemented by Mr. Walter Goss, with the cornet; and solo by Mrs. F. L. Roberts. Mr. Barker played as a prelude a selection from the "Lenore" symphony by Rameau and as a postlude, "Thanks be to God," by Mendelssohn. Mrs. Roberts sang "One Sweetly Solenn Thought," and "Ninety and Nine."

At the service of dedication which came after the sermon the congregation stood and took part in responsive reading at the conclusion of which the trustees of the church read forward, and the chairman, Charles E. Furrington, gave the church for dedication.

The dedication was by Rev. Charles F. Rice, D. D., the Cambridge district superintendent.

The sermon by Rev. Dr. Hamilton was an interesting one. He found his inspiration in the 13th chapter of Hebrews, 24th verse: "That great shepherd of the sheep." He said in part: "The first hymn of the Christian church was a psalm to the shepherd. But after a while the church grew proud and stately. Priests withered that form of the good shepherd from the heart of the people. Thank God that the church of today is returning to the first dream of faith, that the form of the shepherd is beginning to thrill all hearts with the true vision of the son of God! We no longer bow to a dead, repellent Christ. We have an elder brother, who can save and shelter his lost sheep. The heavenly vision is pealing us all to the simplicity of the early faith. The power of that faith was brotherhood infused with a spirit of religious devotion."

Here and there, through the generations, some brave soul has gone up into the mountain of God and has seen the vision, and has become a shepherd of God's sheep. Shall not you and I, who are called to be under-shepherds, go into the mountain of world, not with warfare, but with music.

There were three solos at the evening service by Miss Bertha Cloweth, Mrs. Roberts and George S. Drew.

The evening sermon was by Rev. Charles F. Rice, D. D. He said in part:

"Visions of duty, heavenly visions, calls to service, come in every age, to all God's people, but not always in a manner so manifestly supernatural. These calls to duty come in varied forms, according to the peculiar nature and character of those to whom they come."

"Sometimes they come to us through the lips of others. Sometimes the heavenly visions come in what we call our own thoughts. We are prone to talk of being tempted by the evil one, but we are slow to recognize the voice of God's own spirit in our hearts."

"Sometimes these visions come to us in what we call the pressure of circumstances."

"God has a plan or purpose for every life, which we may discover if we will. Not children of destiny are we, but children of a heavenly Father. His plan we may find out little by little, and may train our lives in accordance with it."

"Obedience to the heavenly vision, cost what it may, is as essential to us as it was to Saul of Tarsus. We hesitate sometimes to say 'God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of Christ.' We hesitate sometimes to talk about the cross, so easy is it, comparatively, to live the Christian life; so little sacrifice do we make, in comparison to the sacrifices of that early day. Yet it will cost something in your life and in mine, to be obedient to the heavenly vision, to avert not from the path of perfect rectitude. But it is as essential today, as in the days of Saul of Tarsus; and certain results will follow today, as then this obedience. The first of these results, is a clearer and more frequent vision. We may train our ears, if we will, so that we shall hear the sound of the still small voice."

"I have heard it suggested that in these days of electricity, when we are likely to touch a live wire somewhere, there may be developed an electrical sense, that will preserve us from the dangers that surround us. Whether that be true or not I know not; but I do know that there may be cultivated and developed a spiritual sense, that will reveal God's presence not of blight and to destroy, but to deliver and to save."

"The second result that will come from obedience to the heavenly vision, will be happiness. Must it not be a happy life, to realize God's purpose and to make it ours, in obedience to the constantly increasing heavenly visions?"

"But the best result that will follow obedience to the heavenly vision, is broadened usefulness beyond our expectations. Some of you have heard Bishop Simpson preach. The secret of that wonderful life was, 'I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision.' In broader service, into grander usefulness than he would ever have dared to dream of, was he led by his obedience."

"It is not simply in the lives of those who are favored by special genius, that this truth holds. It holds in every life consecrated to the Master's service."

"On this your day of dedication, in the midst of your joy and thankfulness over this beautiful temple built by your faith and by your generous giving and consecrated to the worship of Almighty God, rises there no heavenly vision of broader service, of grander usefulness in this historic church in this grand old city."

"For you as individuals, while God has been speaking to you in the still small voice, has there not risen a vision of a fuller service, a grander work that you can do? I beseech you, be obedient unto the heavenly vision."

Rev. C. E. Fisher, pastor of the First Universalist church, took part in the services. Then the people of St. Paul's last night of worship by fire. Rev. Mr. Fisher threw open the doors of his church across the way and bid them enter, and union services were held there every Sunday night.

Historical Sketch

The story of the history of St. Paul's church is a very interesting and a very pretty one. It had its foundation in a cottage more than 84 years ago. The history of the church was compiled in 1868 by Rev. Daniel Dorchester, A. M., who obtained much of his information from persons then living who were among the earliest worshippers in the denomination in this city.

In June, 1827 the corner stone of the First Methodist edifice was laid on Chapel Hill. On June 13, 1827, Rev. Hiram Walden was stationed in Lowell, and on November 29 the new church edifice was dedicated, thus becoming the third church edifice to be dedicated in this city; the first being St. Anne's and the second the First Baptist church. The Methodist organization, however, actually antedates the Baptist by a year and a half, and there seems to be ground for belief from the writings of Rev. Dr. Edgerly that the Episcopal organization was not actually made until after the Methodist had been completed.

In December Rev. Mr. Walden was called and Rev. A. D. Merrill took his place in Lowell. In 1827-28 the church edifice was built and the society organized in its membership. The First Methodist society was organized March 25, 1829.

The growth was so rapid that there soon was an overflow in the Chapel Hill church and in 1830 a new church was planned at the corner of Hurd and Warren streets. It was completed in November and dedicated Nov. 14, 1832, and it was named St. Paul's church.

The site was a little knoll, which was once an Indian burying place, and in digging the ground the bones of long dead Indians were found. After the completion of the church a revival took place and the congregation regularly numbered about 1000 people and at times reached to 1400.

From 1848 to 1854, Rev. Charles K. Time was the pastor and, during his leave of absence, the edifice was sold at auction. Mr. Samuel Lawrence came forward and bought it in, returning it to the society.

Time followed the period of the Civil war. Rev. William R. Clark, the pastor from 1860 to 1862, preached strong sermons upholding the federal government, and a great deal of opposition was evidenced by the church. The handsome American flag was raised from the steeple. Rev. Daniel Dorchester, the pastor next following, came to the church at a trying time. The business depression caused by the war interfered with the prosperity of the church.

Rev. Mr. Dean's Pastorate

Rev. George H. Dean's pastorate in the longest yet recorded in the church annals here. His sermons have been models of direct appeal and his work on the social side of the church has been marked by success. During his seven years, nearly, of service here there have been 15 Methodist preachers at other local churches who have moved on to the usual custom of the denomination. His people have requested his continued presence each year.

Mr. Dean was born in St. John, N. H., and was brought up in Boston. His parents were Benjamin and Mary Dean and he has five brothers and sisters. He was educated at the Boston public schools and at Wesleyan academy at Andover. He received his A. B. degree at Boston university in 1893. In 1898, at the Boston School of Theology, he received his S. T. B. degree and at the present time he is working for his Ph. D. In 1898, at St. Paul's church here, Mr. Dean was ordained deacon, and in 1892 was ordained elder in the Temple Street M. E. church in Boston.

His first charge was the Frederick X. Upham memorial church at Forest Hills, Boston. In 1902 he was assigned to St. Paul's church here. The membership here now is 475, 31 of these being probationers. He has extended the right hand of fellowship to 215 members, 119 of whom came by probation and 105 by letter.

The fire put a new burden on Mr. Dean and his parish, but in the year and a half that has passed practically $20,000 has been raised and the new church stands free of debt.

A description of the new church has already appeared in these columns.

MURDER MYSTERY

Body of Woman Found in Room

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—The Forsyth and Eldridge street district, one of the most crowded on the East Side, which had long been comparatively free from crimes of violence, yesterday developed a murder mystery.

The victim was Mrs. Isaac Schultz, a good-looking young woman of 23, who had been separated from her husband, a bricklayer, for a year, and twice had caused him to be summoned to court on the charge of abandonment.

The body of Mrs. Schultz with her throat cut, was found yesterday afternoon in an untenanted room on the ground floor of the tenement, 135 Forsyth street.

The police, upon discovering under a fence in the back yard a stained shirt with brass sleeve buttons, which was identified by Mrs. Anna Schultz, mother of Isaac Schultz, as belonging to him, at once sent out a general alarm for the missing husband, who, it is alleged, was seen entering the room with his wife on Friday night.

GIRL STRANGLED

Her Body Found by Her Father

LAWRENCE, Sept. 25.—Strangled to death by a necklace of beads around her neck which had caught upon a window-blind fastener, was the fate met by little Anetta Caron, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Caron of 17 Gorton street, South Lawrence.

The child's body was found suspended to the hook by her father Saturday afternoon. It was evident that the accident occurred several hours before.

It is thought that while running about the yard of her home the little one stumbled against the house and as she fell the necklace caught upon the window-blind fastener.

KING EMMANUEL

GIVES CONSENT TO DUKE TO MARRY MISS ELKINS

ROME, Sept. 25.—King Victor Emmanuel as the head of the house of Savoy, has finally given his royal consent and sanction to the marriage of his cousin, Louis, the duke of the Acazzel, and Miss Katherine Elkins, daughter of U. S. Senator Elkins of West Virginia.

Having won the king's approval after a somewhat prolonged and determined struggle, in which the duke had declared to all his royal relatives that he would wed Miss Elkins with or without their permission, he will leave Italy for America, where he plans the wedding will be celebrated some time in November.

FOOTBALL RULES

Play Will Be More Open This Year

In the new football rules, recently issued, there are several changes which will have a tendency to make the game more open this season.

The changes in the regulations are not as important as in many years past, yet they have a decided effect on various phases of the game.

It was determined that all penalties for fouls except penalties under forward pass may be declined by the offended side. This, however, in cases where the penalty includes disqualification does not save the player from being put out of the game.

The penalty for having the ball forward is loss of ball to the offense and the ruling placed under the jurisdiction of the umpire and field judge. The field judge is also made timekeeper.

The score of a forfeited game is made 1-0 in order to distinguish it from other forfeited scores.

The rule regarding forward pass is altered in the following manner:

When the forward pass is legally touched, only the man of the passer's side who thus first legally touched it should be entitled to recover the ball until it has been touched by an opponent; also if a forward pass is thus legally touched, fumbled and touched by another player of the passer's side before the ball shall go to the opponents on the side where it was first legally touched.

While the ball is in the air for a forward pass, players of the defensive side may not use their hands or arms on opponents except to push them out of the way in order to get the ball themselves. Players of the side making the pass may use their hands and arms as in case of players going down the field under a kick. Neither side may, however, "hold" nor "tackle" an opponent who has not the ball.

Finally in case a forward pass is illegally touched outside of these provisions named above the penalty shall be that the ball shall go to the opponents at the spot from which the pass was made.

The committee strongly advises the use of all four officials provided for. Time is to be taken out during enforcement of penalty for incomplete forward pass.

Regarding hurdling and roughness the rules are changed to read, "Loss of fifteen yards, point to be gained and number of downs to remain unchanged."

Penalties for fouls except those under the forward pass may be declined by the offended side. However, in case where the penalty includes disqualification the player is not saved from being out of the game.

The ten minute intermission has been increased to fifteen, the referee to notify the teams five minutes before its expiration. Five minutes after this notification if either team has failed to appear the ball should be put in play as first down by the offended side on the offending side's thirty yard line.

In a ball on a forward pass or a kicked ball except try at goal strike the uprights or crossbar the ball shall be considered as having crossed the goal line.

In case of the ball accidentally striking an official the play shall be played over again.

The other alterations are practically only changes in the wording.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

International Contest Needs Clearer Definition

Though peace has been declared between the Automobile Club of America and the American Automobile association, it developed yesterday that there is quite a mix up over the exact meaning or interpretation of the definition of an international race or contest that was one of the clauses of the peace agreement between the two organizations. The matter has been brought up by the action of the Motor Racing association in declaring its 24-hour race at the Brighton Beach track in Oct. 2 and 3 an international contest.

This did not meet with the approval of the American Automobile association's racing board and the contest committee of the club was asked to withdraw its sanction from the Brighton Beach meet, but refused. Then the American Automobile association men tried to get the Motor Racing association to give up the sanction from the Automobile Club of America but again their request met with a refusal. The result has been that the American Automobile association has asked the Automobile Club of America to name another conference committee to meet representatives of the American Automobile association tracing board for the purpose of discussing the definition of an international race or contest with the idea of obtaining an exact interpretation of this clause of the peace agreement. The wording of the clause was as follows:

An international race or contest is one which is announced or advertised as "international," or one which is open to entrants of American and foreign countries. Cars of foreign manufacture may be entered in a race or contest without making the same an "international" race or contest, provided, however, that such cars be owned and entered by American citizens, firms or corporations.

As the officers of the Motor Racing association considered the 24-hour race they are to run at Brighton Beach on Oct. 2 and 3 an international race according to the wording of this definition, there being three Italians and two French cars entered, they immediately asked for and received a sanction from the contest committee of the Automobile Club of America. When the American Automobile association officials heard what had been done they tried to have the action rescinded and when this attempt failed they asked for a conference on the subject. The members of the club's conference committee are William Pierson Hamilton, Dave Renner Morris, W. G. McAdoo and Robert Lee Norrell. The American Automobile association committee has not been announced.

DIAMOND NOTES

The New England league season will be a week shorter next year. The consensus of opinion among all of the club managers is that the extra week this year was not a successful move.

No great benefit was derived from playing the extra games. Worcester and Lawrence, which were the banner cities this year, admit they made little additional profit by playing overtime.

As a result of the feeling now existing, the club owners will agree at their annual league meeting to do down the number of games and have the season end the week of Labor Day.

Manager Leonard of Lynn has sent in his list of reservations of players for next season with all of the regular men included, and number of the new players which he purposes to look over pretty well next spring. Pitcher Gibbs is one of the most likely of this new stuff. Manager Leonard thinks pretty well of him.

George Ort hopes to locate in Lynn this winter. He and his wife are still in the shoe city after the right kind of an inducement comes along. The Detroit lad will remain there. He expects to land the job to coach for the New Hampshire State College next spring. Ort is likely to have several other offers from colleges.

Hi Labele has turned down a proposition from a Lynn bowling alley, for he prefers day work. Hi is a home loving boy and wants to be by his fire-side this winter on cold nights. For that reason he expects to take a position with a leading shoe manufacturer.

With the purchase of the club by these parties, Sporting Editor Keane of the New Bedford Times says that Jimmy Canavan, who was moved aside from the position of manager of the club and succeeded by Manager Tommie Corcoran will again be put at the head of the club.

The latest dope from New Bedford is that leading citizens in the Whaling port are eager to get possession of the club. They stand ready to offer $7000 for the club interests. It is said they are in line to land the proposition.

President Burke of the New Bedford club says without a doubt New Bedford is the best baseball city of its size in the country. From records even with a losing team, he doesn't appear to be far from right.

Nothing definite has been done yet by way of the purchase of the Lowell franchise. There is a well defined report, however, which seems to make it certain that Haverhill people will buy the club interests and that Haverhill will be without league ball.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The Riversiders defeated the Middlesex Juniors Saturday, 15 to 2. Each team has won two games, and as the 15-year-old championship of the city lies between these two teams, the fifth and deciding game is looked forward to with much interest. The game will be played next Saturday.

The O. M. J. Cadets defeated the Winn A. A. of Woburn Saturday by the score of 6 to 5, this making the 15th straight game for the Cadets. The team put up a good all-around game, though the players alleged that they received poor treatment at the hands of the fans. The Cadets now claim the championship of the state, and are willing to meet the winners of the Lowell and Suburban league at the conclusion of that season.

The final game is yet to come between Elvin E. Smith's aggregation and the Adams Hardware Co.'s. Close playing is the usual feature, but this last game that was played Thursday afternoon surely showed the results of considerable practice on the part of Smith's team as the final score of 7 to 2 in their favor was very gratifying when consideration is taken of the strong team they have in times past been up against. These games are played at the Westlands and by special arrangement next Thursday afternoon has been set aside so that Smith's team for the fourth and last time can come in a winner.

By defeating the Lions at Middlesex Village Saturday afternoon in a close and interesting game, the Y. M. C. A. team tied with Tyngsboro and the Mt. Groves for first place in the Lowell and Suburban league. The score at the close stood 6-2. With the score 2 to 0 in favor of the Lions in the fourth, Roaks of the Y. M. C. A. slammed out a two-bagger, scoring three runs. Then Wright singled in the sixth, scoring two more runs. The last run came in the seventh on another single. Roaks for the Y. M. C. A. caught a fine grounder by the Lions in the second being perfect, not a man stealing during the game. "Cy Young" Stephens pitched a good, heady game, having eight strike-outs and the few hits made of him were kept well scattered. Next Saturday the Y. M. C. A. team meets Tyngsboro to play off the tie. Considering the fact that this is the Y. M. C. A.'s second year in baseball the team is playing fast baseball.

Lowell & R. A. ball team defeated the Phi Alpha Pi of North Billerica Saturday in a very closely contested game, by the score of 1 to 0. The following is the score:

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Lowell	1	0	100.0
Phi Alpha Pi	0	1	0.0

The team standing:

ROOSEVELT'S REPLY

He Says Steel Trust Deal Stayed Progress of the Panic

Compares Anti-Trust Records of Republicans and Democrats—He Discusses Attitude of "Haskell" in Alleged Land Fraud Cases

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—President Roosevelt late last night made reply to W. J. Bryan's recent speech in which he maintained that the democratic party and platform were not getting a "square deal" in the campaign that the president's professions of fair treatment misled them to.

Mr. Roosevelt's reply deals particularly with Mr. Bryan's assertion that the administration has been neither sincere or effective in the prosecution of trusts.

Mr. Roosevelt combats this charge with characteristic emphasis and sets forth in detail what has been done under his direction toward curbing the tendency of capital to combine with a view to destroying competition.

The president's letter in part is as follows:

"Sept. 27, 1908.

"Dear Sir—I have seen your letter published in this morning's papers. As to most of what you say about me personally I do not regard it as necessary. When you say that I am unfair to your platform you reiterate certain opinions as to which I had quoted, with my hearty approval, Gov. Hughes in my first letter; and these, therefore, it is also unnecessary to answer.

"You have not answered the Hughes speech, and in my judgment, you do not want to make the attempt. You say that your platform declares in favor of vigorous enforcement of the law against guilty trust magnates and officials, and that the platform upon which Mr. Taft stands makes no such declaration.

"It was not necessary. That platform approved the policies of this administration and promised to continue them; and here, as usual, I have only to compare your words with the deeds of the administration and of Mr. Taft.

His Record and Olney's

"You merely promise in your platform that you intend to do just what this administration has actually done and is doing. To show the difference between deeds and words I will compare the record of this administration with the record of one of your most prominent supporters at this present moment, Mr. Olney, attorney general under the last democratic administration.

"While Mr. Olney was attorney general no cases whatever were brought under the anti-trust law against combinations of capital, the only new case which he brought being directed against combinations of workmen. During that entire administration the only cases brought against combinations of capital under the anti-trust law were four in number, two of which were unsuccessful; one of the other two being the case which was decided

EDISON IN GAME OF INVENTING FLYING MACHINES

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—All scientists who are interested in aerial navigation are keeping an eye on Wilbur R. Kimball and his $10,000 helicopter, which he will soon test at the Morris Park race track, near New York city. This is the type of flying machine that Thomas A. Edison predicts will eventually conquer gravitation. In principle the helicopter is little more than a light framework in which are twenty-four small wooden propellers set in a horizontal plane and run by a single motor. The air is forced downward by them instead of astern. There is also a large rudder which steers the machine and an inclined wing which varies the horizontal angle of it. There are no planes and only one piece of canvas on the helicopter. This makes a covered surface and is called a negative, as the air strikes it on top instead of underneath. Kimball says the machine will retain its equilibrium automatically.

by Judge Taft in favor of the government.

"Under this administration a mass of such cases have been brought, including the case against the Northern Securities company, against the beef packers, against the Federal salt company, against the General paper company, against the Otis and other elevator companies, against the American tobacco company, against the powder trust, against the Virginia-Carolina chemical company, against the Standard Oil company, and others.

Suits by Roosevelt

"In a number of these cases the government has already succeeded by injunctions and otherwise. Some of the cases are now pending. In hardly any important case against great law-breaking corporations has the government suffered final defeat.

"As regards suits to suppress railway abuses—under the last democratic administration there were no indictments against shippers for securing rebates or secret rates. Under my administration there have been 49 indictments for secret rebates, resulting in 13 convictions; and in only four cases have these indictments failed.

"The other 27 cases are still pending. Among the railroads which have been convicted are the Chicago & Alton, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, the New York Central, the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, while scores of cases are still pending against other leading railroads.

"Among the shippers that have been convicted are some of the greatest corporations in the United States, as for instance, the American Sugar company, the aggregate fine actually paid being more than $150,000; Swift & Co., Armour Packing company, the Cudahy Packing company, Nelson, Morris & Co., each of whom were fined $15,000, and the cases have now been carried to the supreme court. The Standard Oil case is still pending.

"This is a record of actual achievements, and beside it mere promises are empty indeed, and they would not be made now with any possibility of performance, resulting, if it were not for the achievement above recited.

"You state that the steel company with my express consent, purchased one of its largest rivals, and thus obtained control of over 30 per cent. of the total output. This action of the steel company, which increased its share of the total output by only about 4 per cent. and in no way altered the standing of the company under the law, may have been a violation of your plan, the absurdity of which has been exposed by Gov. Hughes. But there was no violation of the law.

Acted To Prevent Panic

"I was cognizant of the entire transaction. It was not entered into by the steel corporation of its own desire, but solely at the urgent request of the corporation purchased and of the big banks holding that corporation's securities, in order to enable them to prevent a crash which would have turned the panic of last fall into the most widespread disaster.

"I should indeed have been derelict in my duty if I had not so acted and efficiently used all the power of the government where it could be legally and properly used (as it was in this case) to see that the panic was kept within the smallest possible radius and the damage caused as slight as possible. You would better understand the principle upon which I acted if you would read your own history, for I am trying to discriminate for and against any man or corporation because he or it is either wealthy or not wealthy.

"I regard such discrimination in either direction as utterly incompatible with a spirit of honesty and fair dealing. I base my distinctions on conduct, not on relative wealth. When the same men who were leaders in the steel corporation acted in connection with the Northern Securities suit in a manner which I regarded as contrary to the law, by my direction a successful suit was immediately undertaken against them.

"The letter then says that the president seeks to do justice to all men and all corporations, and continues: 'You ask me to name a single official connected with a law-breaking corporation who has declared, or will declare, that he is supporting you. In St. Louis paper which reaches me at the same time that the papers containing this published letter of yours, I find a statement from Judge Henry S. Priest, attorney for the Western Pierce oil company, the western subsidiary or representative of the Standard Oil company, in which he announces that he is for Bryan, and states that Will Street believes Bryan will be elected.'

"I reply as to whether he could quote any of the Standard Oil magnates as feeling that Bryan is to be supported. I did not say any of the officials of the Standard Oil company. I am giving you what I found was the drift of opinion among well-posted politicians, as well as bankers.

"Gov. Haskell is all right. They have not proved anything on him. Have they?"

"Newspaper clipping goes on to say that Judge Priest was one of the lawyers who fought Attorney General Hadley in the state's counter suit against the Waters-Pierce and Republic oil companies.

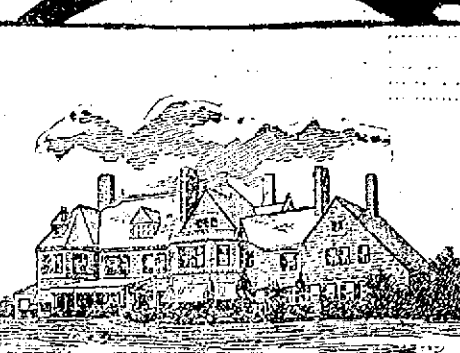

Two Kinds of Business

"His legal practice is chiefly with the big corporations, and his firm is counsel for the United Railway's company and the Northern American interests in St. Louis. Judge Priest is credited with originating the phrase 'Bryan is a conventional offender,' which he used in an argument at the trial of R. M. Snyder, the Kansas City millionaire, now dead.

"You say that the trust magnates know their own interests and are supporting Judge Taft. So far as they have special interests, which are to them more important than the general business welfare, I believe they will support you.

"The president then charges that western mine owners, contributed to Bryan's campaign fund in 1896, and then takes up the Haskell matter. The charges of land fraud against the government are gone, but his likewise his alleged connection with the traffic in opium, and the letter concludes as follows:

"I believe in radical reform, and the movement for such reform can be successful only if it grows on the democratic as it does on the corrupt. If it shows itself as far removed from government by a mob as from government by a plutocracy. Of all corruption the most far-reaching for evil is that which hides its face behind the mask of furious denunciation, seeking to arouse and to pander to the passions of mankind. No better exemplification of this type of corruption could be

Given a Big Reception in New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—At a reception held last night in the Lyric theatre under the auspices of the United Irish League, John E. Redmond and Joseph Devlin, the Irish envoys, were given a rousing reception by a large audience.

Lieut. Gov. Chanler was the chairman and, in a speech introducing Messrs. Redmond and Devlin, told of his interest in the movement for home rule in Ireland and declared that as a friend of Ireland he would do what he could to bring about the desired conditions in the Emerald Isle.

Mr. Redmond, in a long speech, dwelt on the work that has been done and is being done for the independence of Ireland. He said that four years ago he attended the national convention of the United Irish League in New York and there had received definite promises of support for the Irish cause and that he had made definite promises in return. He was here, he said, to make acknowledgment that the terms on both sides had been fulfilled.

At the meeting several thousand dollars were subscribed for the Irish movement.

Bryan Says That President Favored the Steel Trust

Claims He is Using High Office to Advance a Personal Friend and Political Refuge — He Says That Trust Magnates Contributed to the Hughes Campaign

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 27.—Defending his knowledge of Governor Haskell against the charges which have been brought against him "until the charges can be examined in some court where partisanship does not bias," William J. Bryan, democratic candidate for president, on his way from Madison to this city late Saturday, gave out for publication his reply to President Roosevelt's letter in response to his telegram on the subject.

Mr. Bryan speaks of the election of Mr. Haskell as Governor of Oklahoma and says that "the constitution was adopted and that Governor Haskell was elected in spite of the efforts of your administration, and in spite of your administration, and in spite of the speech made in Oklahoma by Mr. Taft."

Roosevelt and Steel Trust
Mr. Bryan charges, among other things, that the Steel Trust, "with your express consent," purchased one of its largest rivals and thus obtained control of more than 50 per cent. of the total output. He asks the president if he will insist "that in permitting this you showed less favor to the monopolistic corporations than I do in opposing it?"

Mr. Bryan abruptly charges that Governor Hughes, quoted by President Roosevelt as having "ridiculed the democratic trust remedy," was himself the beneficiary of the trusts and allies the campaign contributors to the Hughes election fund two years ago. Among these are J. P. Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie and William Nelson Cromwell.

Mr. Bryan's letter in part is as follows:
Defence of Haskell
"Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 26, 1908.
"The Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, Washington, D. C.:

"Dear Sir—While I have not yet received your letter, and shall not until I reach here next week, I have read a copy of it in the press and beg leave to submit the following reply:
"Mr. Haskell having voluntarily resigned from the committee that he might be more free to prosecute those who have brought charges against him, I need not discuss the question of his guilt or innocence further than to say that the public service which he has rendered and the vote of confidence which he has received from the people of his state ought to protect him from condemnation until the charges can be examined in some court where partisanship does not bias, and where campaign exigencies do not compel prejudgment.

"I would not deem it necessary to address you further but for the fact you seize upon the charges and attempt to make political capital out of them.

"You even charge that my connection with Mr. Haskell's selection as a member of the resolutions committee and as treasurer of the committee raises a question as to my sincerity as an opponent to trusts and monopolies. As an individual and as the candidate of my party, I resent the charge and repel the insinuation.

"I have been in public life for 18 years and I have been sufficiently conspicuous to make my conduct a matter of public interest. I have passed through two presidential campaigns in which party feeling ran high and epithets was exhausted. I have no hesitation in saying that you cannot find an act, a word or a thought of mine to justify your partisan charge.

"I had never been informed of any charge that had been made against Mr. Haskell connecting him with the Standard Oil company or with any other trust. I had known him as a leader in the constitutional convention of Oklahoma and had known him as one of the men principally responsible for the excellent constitution which has since been adopted and accepted by a majority of over 100,000, 50,000 of which was furnished by republicans.

"I had known of his election to the governorship of that great young state by a majority of some 30,000. I had known that the constitution was adopted in spite of the efforts of your administration and in spite of the speeches made in Oklahoma by Mr. Taft.

"You say that it was a matter of common notoriety that Mr. Haskell was connected with the Standard Oil company. I have a right to assume that if so serious an objection had existed to Mr. Haskell's election and had been a matter of common notoriety in Ohio, as you say, Judge Taft would have felt it his conscientious duty to warn the people when he spoke in Oklahoma.

"If he did not have the knowledge, why can it be assumed that I had it? And if he had it how can you excuse his failure to communicate the information to the people of Oklahoma? If you feel it your patriotic duty to denounce Mr. Haskell when he is only a member of the national organization, how much more would Mr. Taft have felt it his patriotic duty to denounce Mr. Haskell when he was aspiring to be the chief executive of a great state?"

"Will you insist that in permitting this you showed less favor to the monopolistic corporations than I do in opposing it? You quote at length from a speech made by Governor Hughes, in which he ridicules one of our anti-trust remedies.

Is this the same Governor Hughes who was counted as one of the allies who endeavored to defeat Mr. Taft when, as you insisted, Mr. Taft represented the reformers of your party and his opponents the reactionary element?

"Did not Governor Hughes have the support of the Dwyer delegation in the convention, and is not New York city the home of many of the republicans most conspicuous in their connection with the law-defying corporations?"

Some Trust Contributions
"You are certainly aware of the fact that in the statement filed by George R. Sheldon, the treasurer of the republican state committee, two years ago, after Mr. Hughes' election, it appears that the following contributions were made to the campaign fund: J. P. Morgan, $20,000; John D. Rockefeller, $5,000; Andrew Carnegie, $5,000; Charles M. Schwab, $2,000; John W. Gates, $2,000; W. E. Corey, $2,000; W. Nelson Cromwell, $1,000; W. F. Havenmeyer, $800; B. M. Duke, $500. Several of these men are known to be officially connected with the trusts.

"Would the fact that these gentlemen contributed to his campaign fund strengthen or weaken his testimony against the reasonableness of our anti-trust remedy?"

"You cannot have failed to notice that Governor Hughes in his speech assumed the role of the critic and not that of the constructive statesman.

A Bunch of Sarcasm
"As you quote from Governor Hughes, I take it for granted that Mr. Taft has not yet expressed himself in as satisfactory manner on the subject, for you would naturally prefer to quote from the presidential candidate whenever possible.

"You say, 'Let us repeat that no law-defying corporation has any other reason to fear from you save that it will suffer in the general paralysis of business,' etc. Referring to the last part of the sentence first, I might question your ability to act as an expert as to panic prevention, since you now have one on your hands, but as to your charge that no law-defying corporation has reason to fear the direct effect of the anti-trust remedies which I favor, permit me to suggest that your testimony on this subject is not conclusive.

"You are a witness, to be sure, but your interest in the result of the election must be taken into consideration in weighing your testimony. There is better evidence. The trust magnates know their own interests and they are supporting Judge Taft.

Not Helped by Trusts
"Not one of the trust magnates helped to secure my nomination, while it is a matter of common notoriety that they were conspicuous in the republican convention, and it is equally a matter of common notoriety that they are supporting your party in this campaign. If you will name a single official connected with a law-defying corporation, monopoly or trust, who has declared or will declare that he is supporting me, I will publicly warn him that I will enforce against him the present criminal law, and will demand in the democratic platform as soon as these laws can be enacted.

"But there is another fact which raises a presumption in favor of our party and against your party. I referred to it in my former letter to you, but you inadvertently overlooked it in your reply, and the members of your cabinet, called in for consultation, evidently did not notice it.

"I stated that we had not knowingly received a dollar from any official connected with a corporation known as a trust, and that any money so received would be returned as soon as we received knowledge of the fact.

Publicity of Contributions
"I now remind you that your convention deliberately rejected, by a vote of 2 to 1, the plank favoring publicity as to campaign contributions. Mr. Taft has repudiated the action of the convention by declaring himself in favor of a publicity law, but he favors publicity after the election, while we favor publicity before the election.

"Which do you regard as the better plan—to let the people know before the election what influences are at work, or to let them know after the election?"

"Are you willing to say that any public interest was served in 1904 by concealing until after the election the contributions made to the republican campaign committee by Mr. Harriman and those collected by him for others?"

"Are you willing to say that the publicity before election of the contributions then made would have no effect on the election? As I have said, we shall publish the names of contributors above $100.

Challenge of Publicity
"Will you ask your national committee to publish before the election the contributions above $100? Or if you regard this as too small a sum, the contributions above $10,000? If not, what reason can you give to the public for not doing so?"

President Again Rebuked
"I do not regard it as proper for the president to use his prestige, his influence or his patronage to aid one member of his party as against another who aspires to office, and I regard it as a violation of the obligation that the president owes to the whole people to use an office that belongs to the whole people as a party asset for the advancement of a personal friend and a political protégé.

"Believing that the president should not be tempted to use that power for his own advantage—and it is equally repugnant to the spirit of our institutions that he should use it for anyone else's advantage—I tried to secure an amendment to the Constitution limiting the president to a single term, and I have announced in three campaigns that if elected I would not be a candidate for re-election.

"I believe that the occupant of so high an office, with such enormous power at his command, should be absolutely free to devote himself unselfishly to his country's welfare, and I am sanguine enough to believe that if entrusted with power I would be able to make my administration so successful that the members of my party could, without interference from me, select the one most worthy to carry on the work begun by me—so successful that the administration would speak for itself, and that it would not be necessary for me to defend it in bulletins or pronouncements. I think I could in this way give to the members of the opposite party, as well as to the members of my own party, a 'square deal.' Very truly yours,

"W. J. Bryan."

LINCOLN CLUB

Lost Property and Colors Hauled Down

The Lincoln club is hors de combat. Ezra Mansur, the constable, with the law in his left put the club down and out with his trusty right, Saturday afternoon and not only that but he pulled down the colors that wave over the land of the free and the home of the brave" and there was but one true Lincolnite present, Elevator Inspector Johnnie Hoar and he pleaded with Ezra to spare the nation's flag. When he found that his pleadings were in vain he up and told the constable that if the flag was taken down from the Lincoln club window would walk over his dead body.

Ezra allowed that Johnnie was going some and rather than put him to the test he sent a couple of his strikers across the street and they took the flag down from the opposite side of the street. As the grand old flag was coiling and uncoiling itself in its descent Ezra told Johnnie that there was more than one way to kill a cat. The club had its quarters on the third floor of the Central Savings bank block in Central street, and its effects were attached by Robertson Brothers, furniture dealers. The club had been installed in the rooms for more than two years. Alfred Wilby is president of the organization.

Mrs. Winifred Doherty, and mother, of Lowell, have been recent guests of Mr. Frank L. Furbush and wife, of Graniteville.

INCREASE IN VALUATION.

We are not yet fully conversant with the extent to which the valuation of real estate has been increased by the assessors, but from all accounts we are of the opinion that the increase is about ten per cent. The increase in the tax rate was over 5 per cent, so that this in conjunction with the hoist in the valuation is a double increase in tax rate. Nobody supposed that there was to be an increase on both ends.

THE SCHOOL GARDEN.

The progress in school gardening by the pupils under skilful direction must needs improve their taste, impart a sense of the beautiful in Nature, while it affords a means of spending spare time in healthful, innocent amusement; time that might be otherwise thrown away. The pupil thus interested in the cultivation of shrubs and flowers will take up the work at home and thus the instruction given assures the beautification of the homes of the future. It is one of the most practical forms of Nature study.

AS TO FOREST FIRES.

The cost of our forest fires is enormous, and it is of great importance to the country that this destruction of valuable timber and property, sometimes accompanied by loss of life, be reduced as far as possible. Those who have traveled in railroad trains in New England during the last few weeks could not help being struck by the number of brush fires along the railroad. These were mostly started by sparks from the locomotives, the same manner in which it is alleged the recent fire in Chelsea was started.

It is high time that the railroads should be compelled to adopt some method of preventing cinders and burning embers from escaping to be carried by the breeze to set fire to adjacent property.

It is undoubtedly a fact that millions worth of timber and young trees are destroyed every year in this way from fires caused by railroad trains.

During the present drought especially, it has been very easy to start fires in brush or wooded land, and once started it was impossible in many cases to stop them until they could go no farther.

There is here a new problem for the fire fighters of the country and perhaps a suggestion for some new law to cause the railroads to adopt greater precautions against starting such fires.

JOE CANNON AS A HIDEBOUND OBSTRUCTIONIST.

While the hard knocks are going around, that old hidebound, hard-headed, battering ram for republican bosses, Joe G. Cannon of Illinois and speaker of the house should get his.

Writing of Cannon, William Hard said: "The United States now possesses the most stationary political object ever exhibited within its boundaries." Cannon may thus be regarded as a perfect type of the statu quo that stands against progress, against public improvement and against the rights of minorities. Cannon opposed the pure food bill because he felt that the adulterated food was too good for those who were consuming it; he stood in the path of Senator La Follette's bill to remove many of the dangers and hardships from the lives of railroad employees. He feels that these people deserve only the treatment of draught horses.

Cannon is the most rancorous defender of the spoils system. He believes that the republican office holder has a right to go out and plunder every citizen who disagrees with him politically. That is just what Cannon has been encouraging since he got a lodgment in the speaker's chair.

Cannon was the mogul who stood against the Appalachian bill to save forests from destruction and against the great reclamation bill as he has done against many other measures of equal importance.

In spite of his affecting a high sense of official responsibility, he appointed as chairman of the public land committee a man eager to help dishonest purchasers to exploit those lands. He is a man without scruples and with gall enough to serve a regiment.

He is probably responsible for more stubborn resistance of what he knows to be right than any other individual in the United States today.

Cannon is a stern standpatter on the tariff, the friend of the trusts and blocks the door of legislation as it was never blocked before, because he is the tool of the trusts, the speculative combines and republican bosses who want this regime of public plunder to continue.

Cannon has destroyed the character of congress as a deliberative body; he has throttled free speech in the house over which he presides and barred all legislation not favored by republican agencies in league with Cannon.

For these reasons there should be a great effort made to defeat this Danville on November 3rd, when he will be up for reelection to congress.

He is a republican autocrat who is never satisfied except when placing insuperable obstacles in the path of democratic advancement. Democrats and republicans alike should relegate him to private life so that he may have time to repent of his misdeeds before he is called to appear before the Supreme Judge.

SEEN AND HEARD

It is true that the average woman cannot understand a railroad timetable, but it is also true that the average man cannot understand a woman.

A man can have worse faults than being too slow. Some men are so fast that the law cannot keep up with them.

When you see a young widow carefully cutting the address of a beauty doctor from an advertisement in the paper, it is safe to assume that the possibility of loving another doesn't seem so remote to her as it used to once.

A tailor, of course, ought always to wear good clothes, but how can he afford to, if his customers don't pay their bills?

Sometimes a boy gets enough to eat, but he is always hungry again half an hour afterward.

The heroine of the "Dolly Dialogues" apparently never heard H. G. Wells' injunction: "Be good, sweet maid, and let who will be clever."

There may be sermons in tombstones, but most of them have very unsatisfactory texts.

Ask your friends: "What is a dollar good for?" and their answers will give you a line on their characters.

The man who has achieved success sneers at the idea of luck.

There is something the little chipmunk can do that puts him in a class by himself. He can dig a hole in the ground without making any dirt.

It is all right for a man to learn to say, "I will," but it is better for a young man to learn to say, "I won't," when somebody asks him to go in and have a drink.

When children are well brought up, the father generally gets more credit than belongs to him.

Any time when you want to please a fourteen-year-old girl, suggest ice-cream.

After a long drought, everybody wants a rain, but the minister hopes it won't come Sunday, and the business man hopes it won't come on a week day.

While five of six young men are sitting with their hands folded, mourning because they have no opportunity, the sixth young man is busy hustling around making an opportunity for himself.

It is probably true, as some of the diet doctors say, that most people eat too much, but how they do enjoy it!

When there is a mirror in the elevator, every man who rides up or down looks in it before he leaves the car.

Some men would accomplish a good deal more, if, when they had done something, they didn't always stop a long time to admire it.

The man who never worries about the future must feel very confident about his past.

Look out for the man who never gets angry over anything. He is too diplomatic to be safe.

Call no man drunk until you are assured of your own sobriety.

Multipled molecules make matter; therefore take trifles thoughtfully.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

A NEW DOCTRINE

Providence Tribune: The opinion has been ventured that if the counting room flies of the manufacturers of Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Connecticut were searched thousands of letters would come to light written to senators and members of the house of representatives with the intent to influence public legislation. It is brand-new doctrine, surely, to preach that legislation is so sacred that legislators cannot be approached. Everybody who there is much threatened legislation first and last designed solely for blackmailing purposes. The precise question, of course, in fact the only question, relates to whether lawmakers are approached properly or improperly. Business men and congressmen themselves have fought tooth and nail over measures designed to promote their own interests. But if they have been bribe givers or bribe takers they should be condemned and it does not help Mr. Foraker's case a particle to assert or intimate that scores of them have been bribe givers or bribe takers.

GOOD RIDDANCE EMMA

Springfield News: The news that Emma Goldman is to shake the dust of New York city from her feet in January and go to Australia will be welcomed by New Yorkers, but not half so much as if she would take the dust with her.

WHERE BRYAN AND TAFT AGREE

Fall River Globe: The Bryan platform demands the repeal of the tariff on wood pulp. Hence if Mr. Bryan is elected president along with a democratic congress, it bodes ill to one of the most important industries of Maine.

And if those things do not come to pass it bodes ill for a greater and more important national industry, the printing and publishing of newspapers. As to Mr. Bryan's position on this particular matter, it might be remarked incidentally, it is the same as that which President Roosevelt has taken. Hence, as one of the late's policies which Mr. Taft has pledged himself to uphold, if elected, it would not seem to make much difference to this over-protected paper industry whether Bryan or Taft were to be elected chair—providing, of course, that Joe Cannon isn't to have a strange hold on congress, and by virtue of that, on the business' interests of the entire country.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Rev. George Batchelor, editor of the Christian Register, having made what considered a phenomenal recovery from a difficult and dangerous operation, is now on the road to greatly improved health. He has returned from the hospital to his home in Cambridge.

According to Miss Carrie Louise Munn, daughter of Mrs. Charles A. Munn of Washington, D. C., and Manchester-by-the-Sea, there is no foundation for the rumor which appears to have started in Washington of her engagement to Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., the classmate of her brother, Charles Munn, at Harvard.

Following a visit to her only son, Professor Henry M. Howe, at Bedford, N. Y., Mrs. Julia Ward Howe of Boston is again at her summer home in Newport, R. I. The venerable author of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," who is now in her 85th year, appears to have stood well her journey from Newport to Bedford and return.

An interesting event at Revere one evening last week was a double wedding at the First Congregational church, where the two daughters of the pastor, Rev. J. W. Horner, were married, the father officiating. Miss Hazel Horner became the bride of Dr. C. C. Hitchcock of Victor, Iowa, and Miss Helen Horner was married to Dr. E. O. Olds of Green Bay, Wis.

DEATHS.

McGUIRE—Mrs. Mary A. McGuire, wife of Patrick J. McGuire, of the Sacred Heart parish, died Saturday night at her home, 37 Newhall street. She leaves to mourn her loss a husband, Patrick J., one brother, Charles D. Foley, the well known foreman of Engine 1, one sister, Miss Agnes M. Foley, teacher at the Butler school and a nephew, Charles J. Foley, Jr. The funeral will take place Tuesday morning from her late home, 37 Newhall street, at 8.15. Mass of requiem at Sacred Heart church at 9 o'clock. W. H. Savage in charge.

BENNETT—Mrs. Lydia E. Bennett, widow of the late George Bennett, died Saturday afternoon at her home, 565 Middlesex street, aged 60 years, 11 months and 11 days. She was the oldest colored resident in the city, it is said, and was widely known among her own people and in other circles.

O'MALLEY—Patrick O'Malley, aged 65 years, was found dead in bed Sunday morning at 31 Webster street, where he lived. There was nothing to indicate foul play or suicide, and heart disease is believed to have been the cause of death. He worked for the Middlesex corporation. He is not known to have any relatives, and the body was removed to the rooms of Undertakers C. H. Molloy & Sons.

FOSDICK—Mrs. Hattie Fosdick, of 24 Ash street, widow of the late Chas. H. Fosdick, died Saturday night at 10.45 o'clock, after a brief illness. She leaves one son, Charles A. Fosdick, of Waltham, formerly of Lowell. Mrs. Fosdick was a member of the First Spiritualist society, and was faithful to every duty during her life of 77 years.

GALLAGHER—Mrs. Mary Gallagher, an old resident of St. Michael's parish, died Sunday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Martin Gray, 28 Exeter street. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Martin Gray, and one son, Michael Gallagher of England.

TOWNS—Mrs. Caroline (Lentef) Towns, widow of the late Jesse Towns of Methuen, died in that place Sept. 21. Mrs. Towns was the daughter of Thomas and Abigail (Coburn) Lentef and was born in Charlestown, Mass., in 1822, but had made Methuen her home for many years. Mr. Towns died in 1896. Since his death, Mrs. Towns had spent most of her winters with a relative in Lowell. Of late the infirmities incident to age had confined her closely to her home, even preventing her from attending the near-by church, which she so dearly loved. She had many friends. The nearest relatives are four nephews.

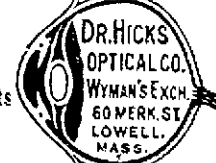

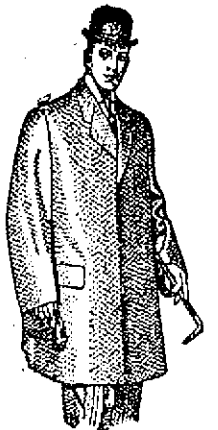

CROCKETT—Mrs. Harriet E. Crockett, widow of the late John G. Crockett and a lifelong resident of this city, died Sunday morning at her residence, 189 Liberty street, aged 73 years, 2 months, 9 days. She was born in the "Overseer's" block of the Hamilton corporation, her father, Geo. Briggs, holding a responsible position with that company. On Nov. 7, 1850, she married, and her husband later became master mechanic of the Hamilton, which position he held until his death. She bore the sufferings of a long illness with true courage and spirit, and leaves to mourn her loss one son, Eugene G., one daughter, Flora A. and a grandson, Gardner J. Crockett, all of Lowell; and two sisters, Mrs. H. B. Downes of Crelmsford and Mrs. B. F. Foster of Montville, Maine.

DANAHT—John Danahy, an old and highly respected resident of St. Patrick's parish, died Saturday afternoon at his home, 347 Market street, aged 57 years. He leaves two sons, William and John Danahy.
